

Member in practice permitted to render other services

Member in practice are permitted to render any other services as long as it does not bring disrepute to the Profession of Actuaries.